The stock market was quite active to-day, especially in special and the tone of the dealings from start to finh a was strong, material gains were made throughout the list, many stocks closing at the highest prices for the week. There was a dearth of news upon the street calculated to affect values either way, but the mangre advices from the West were of a reassuring actuse, and the Grangers were prominent both for estipity and strength. It was announced that the reads regarded the new tariff in Iowa as a victory enablish them to maintain through rates and lecal rates in other States. The special feature of the day, however, was New England, which was very trong, and the buying in the stock was attributed to interests closely identified with the property. A prominent broker with a Buston house was conspicuous in the crowd dealing in the stock was only fairly steady, with the professionals still in command, and Missouri Pacific and New England were is lower. The buillish sentiment soon prevailed, however, and London came in as a buyer; prices began to advance immediately, and the market became more active on the increased demand for attacks. New England, Louisville & Nashville, Missouri Pacific and the Grangers took the lead, and values mounted rapidly during the first hour, but after that time the sales for realization kept the market down, though the advance met with no set-back. CHICAGO, June 16.—When business opened on Change to day it was quite evident that the spirit of liquidation was general. There were a few exceptions and few bold takers of cereals, but this only served for sigh rallies and checked the downward tendency. By noon the conservative feeling of the morning gave way to a renewal of vigorous liquidation. Large quantities of "long" wheat came out, and July, which opened unchanged at 82 se, after selling down to 81 se early, and returning to 82c, or about the closing price last night, took a second plunge and went to 80 se, with a slight rally to 81 se. As against the opirit of realizing and liquidation, there was little to encourage buying. Clearances were small. There was some buying by exporters for itile to encourage buying. Clearances for amail. There was some buying by exporters for his continent, but selling by British agents. The weather and crop news grows more bearish every day. The outside estimate does not put the visible amply lacrosse at over 1,000,000 bu. July closed at 81 lgc. has was quite active to-day and at times considerably sected, with transactions heavy and at a lower range legics. The "bears" were particularly favored by the samulances. The shipments resterday were last. The weather was the best possible for the realized crops. Wheat was panicky, the estimated re-ceips for Monday were large, an it was figured that local scocks had increased fully 1,000,000 be during the week. With this array of facts on their side, the the week. With this array of facts on their side, the "bears" salled in with more than their usual confidence. One operator led the ball by dumping 750,000 bushels of July, and he was followed by other large firms, while the small army of light-weight professionals brought up the rear. Values took a wild plungs downward. July opened at 51%, and brought up shortly after noon at 50%. Here there was enough buying to prevent a further slump. Hutchinson was a free buyer from 51%; for July down to the bottom. July closed at 50%. Oats suffered a decline under the combined influence of good weather, fine crop prospects, and the marked weakness in other grains. There was no very large trade, but the market was heavy and sagging, with trade, but the market was heavy and sagging, with but little recovery to the close. July oats fell from 33 se to 32 se and closed with 32 se bid. Provisions were rather slow and weakened early, in sympathy with wheat and corn, but later became stronger and with wheat and corn, but later became stronger and rallied, but last sales were at practically the same prices as yesterday. Scalpers were the principal traders, but were not all aggressive. July pork sold at $13.60@13.70 and closed at $13.67½. July lard at $.47½@8.52½, and closed at $.47½@8.50c. July short ribs sold at 7.47½@7.50c. Packing since March 1, 915.000 hogs, against 957,000 same time last year. The leading futures ranged as follows:

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. Trade as a Rule Quiet with but Few Fluctuntions in Value.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 16. In most departments quietude is the leading characeristic, about the only exception being the produce, hardware and lumber markets, all of which are active. In produce, eggs and choice butter rule, firm, with receipts hardly up to the usual volume. The continued light supply of eggs leads to the belief that in the early spring farmers, being hard up, have sold a larger per cent of their poultry than usual for "pinmoney." Receipts of poultry, as well, are lighter than at the corresponding period last year, but the demand has not been so great; therefore, the lighter supply has not been as noticeable as with eggs, which have been in good demand for shipping and local consumption. Early vegetables continue in light supply, while the demand is good, consequently high prices continue to rule. Early apples and peaches are coming on the market quite freely and a lower range of prices may be looked for the coming week. Had it been any day but Saturday the maket would have broken to-day. New potatoes are in abundant supply and selling a dollar a barrei lower than in June, 1887. Old potatoes are in little request and but few are held in stock here. There was a fair supply of strawberries to-day, and prices ruled steady, but it is expected that higher prices will rule next week as the dry weather is cutting down the growth. Dry goods men are having only a fair trade, mostly in the way of replenishing broken stocks. The provision men are doing something in a jobbing way, prices ruling steady. They are all carrying a larger quantity of hog products than at the corresponding time last year. The wool market is dull and prices rule weak. Seldom is the flour market as sluggish as at the present time. The millers who are the best off, says one of their number, are those who are taking advantage of the duil time to improve their mills. But little improvement is looked for until after harvest. the early spring farmers, being hard up, have sold a

The week closing to-day has been the dullest many years with the grain men. Buyers are few and ndifferent. Wheat to-day went off 5 cents, and no one seemed to want any at that figure. Corn ranged some lower, but the market did not break as bad as did wheat. Quiet times are looked for for several days to come. Track bids to-day ruled as follows:

Patrick Egan on the Irish Vote. Special in Kausas City Journal. Patrick Egan, of Lincoln, Neb., delegate-at large from his State, who will be the permanent chairman of the convention, was asked:
"What do you think of Ford's statement that Blaine is the only candidate who can carry the Irish-American Republican votel" .

"I think that the Irish-American Republicans will vote for the nominee of the convention. There were, of course, thousands of men who voted for Blaine out of personal sympathy, and some of these, perhaps, would not vote for any other candidate. Of what is called the Trish vote,' and which Mr. Ford figures at 70,000 in the State of New York, the greater part by far was given to the Republican ticket because it represented protection to American industry, and very little, if any, of this vote will ever be given to a free-trade platform. Mr. Blaine would undoubtedly get votes that no other candidate could draw. I am as ardent an admirer of Blaine as there is in this country, but I think that his last letter of declination was final, and I don't think his name will be regularly presented to the convention. I think, however, that after several days' balloting, if it should appear that no other man could get the nomination, the convention might turn unanimousl to Blaine and nominate him, and I further think that he could be induced to accept a nom-fination so offered. It cannot be entirely unani-mons. There will be men in the convention who will never vote for Blaine, and a complete unanimity cannot be looked for, but for all purposes such a nomination would be unani-mons. There will be no attempt made on the part of Mr. Blaine's friends to stampede the convention to him. Mr. Blaine can get a very large Irish vote, but any Republican candidate, on a protective platform, will poll a large Irish vote. They will not support free trade under any conditions"

Cursets and Common Sense;

Shirles Dare, in thicago Times.

Let common sense decide as to corsets. A weak, nervous woman who feels best in loose wrappers cannot judge for a robust girl who really enjoys the trim set of her corset, and takes no harm from it. It is painful, however, and unsuitable to see active housekeeepers going about morning, noon and night in close-fitting dresses and corsets. Except some support for flabby figures, no corsets should be worn in working dress, which, in or out of doors, should come as near the freedom of a gymnasium suit as possible. French women have sense about this, and teach their children and order their households half the day in flowing gowns which would scandalize our triced-up matrons. Then the slender artistic corset is worn with visting and evening dress, to far less detriment. Two or three things suggest themselves in the mat-ter of corsets; one, that obesity is apt to follow tight lacing in youth. Another is a doubt whether tights in stone gray, navy blue or red cloth, call them tailor gowns, if you will, which reveal every line of the upper half of the figure to the very play of the muscles, are as attractive on the whole as draped outlines which relieve the curves of the form. Third, there is no doubt whatever that the long rigid waist now in vogue, with its exaggerated tournure, destroys all grace of figure and movement, afflicts the eye that follows, and asperses the taste which such caricature. One would really like to take to the backwoods until this ugly fashion disap-

an Francisco Chronicle. The quaint old Scotch minister has been used very frequently in stories, but acertain characterstic of the same kind runs through all the simpler forms of religious worship. The old Scotch minister used to advise the Lord. When he prayed for fine weather, which was a standing prayer in the Scotch church, he was wont to put it in simple form. "Ob, Lord, we pray thee to send us some fine weather. Ye ken vera well if this spell o' rain lasts jist anither week, the craps 'll be fairly ruined." "Lord, has mercy on Johnny Fife, wha's deein' the day. Ye ken weel aneuch he has a lairge family, an' his widow couldna' support them." But a business-like and categorical parson is a colored gentleman who prays: "Lord, we thank thee for all thy great and glorious gifts to man, both B. C. and A. D. We would especially ask thee to bless the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the E. P. U. T., the S. P. G., and all kindred soci-
